Our department has had a tremendous amount of successful graduates enter in the work force, graduate school programs and pre-professional programs as well. You can start the day with a campus tour, scheduled through Admissions, at 9:30 a.m. followed by an Open House event in the Sims Science Building. This event will consist of demonstrations, a chemistry and biochemistry major student panel discussion, departmental tours and presentations by our student organizations. Space will be limited so it will be filled on a first come, first served basis.
