

POLITICAL SCIENCE GUIDED PATHWAY

Political Science is the social science discipline that devotes itself to the study of people, power, and politics in the state, law, and society. Earn an Associate of Arts from Central Piedmont Community College and transfer to Winthrop University to earn your Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, preparing you for a career in local, state, and Federal government, international affairs, teaching, public service, political advocacy, survey research, campaigns and elections, non-governmental organizations, business, marketing, and law. This program is not like any other in the state, the region, or even the nation. The Model United Nations Program, the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research and the Winthrop Poll, and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, not only allow for the development of real-world marketable skills and other high impact practices, but also make Winthrop stand out as a political science powerhouse.
