
Alexandria Newberry '23

Alexandria Newberry is a first generation student from Barnwell, SC. Alex earned a B.S.W. from Winthrop in 2023. As a Winthrop student, she used her time to get involved, be of service and quench her thirst for knowledge. She served as a work study employee at Dacus Library, vice president of the DiGiorgio Student Union (DSU) and as an intern at the United Way of York County in Rock Hill. In addition to her campus involvement, Alex launched her photography business in 2021 during her sophomore year at Winthrop.

Currently, Alex works as a research assistant under Duane Neff, associate professor of social work at Winthrop, doing community research for Impact York County. In her spare time, she enjoys reading, photography and fueling her creativity in an effort to expand her horizons. Alex has plans to return to Winthrop in May as a graduate student in the social work advanced standing program.
