JOHNSON THEATRE

Blithe Spirit

by Noel Coward

From the delightfully wicked mind of the 20th century's master of British wit and sophistication, Blithe Spirit sparkles with out-of-this-world charm and spectral hijinks. Researching for his latest book, novelist Charles Condomine and his second wife, Ruth, invite local eccentric medium Madame Arcati for dinner and a séance. A pleasant evening takes a supernatural turn when Arcati conjures Charles' deceased first wife Elvira, who comes with a plan of her own...to get Charles back, even if it kills him!

Who We Are

We are Arts Winthrop. We are an impassioned and experienced faculty of professionals and scholars committed to challenging you to become the artist you want to be. We offer nationally accredited programs in the visual arts, dance, design, theatre, and music, providing demanding instruction in an interdisciplinary environment that inspires and prepares the next generation of responsible citizens of the creative class—the makers, performers, designers, educators, and influencers.

We believe that the arts are an expression of our culture's values; are a driver of innovation and a catalyst for the economy; and have an obligation to positively affect social change by contributing to our cultural and political discourse.

We recognize the inherent responsibility of the artist as a leader in defining culture and lifestyle – what we see and hear, the products we use, the environments we inhabit, and how we communicate.

We are certain that there is no greater profession – no greater calling in life – than this.

We are Arts Winthrop.
