

Virtual Event Attendance Guide

Orientation 2021

Welcome to Winthrop! We ask that all students follow these guidelines for your virtual Orientation sessions.

Mic Drop

As you can see on your Orientation schedule, there are sessions where you will be expected to unmute, speak up, and participate. During these sessions, you will be prompted by your OL or TOLM to participate or respond.

Camera Ready

As you can see on your Orientation schedule, there are sessions where you will be expected to have your camera on. This is so that your classmates can start to get to know each other!

Be mindful of your background and surroundings.

Name

hello
my name is

Use your name, not your "username." This helps us and your fellow classmates get to know you! It also helps your OL or TOLM take attendance so that you get credit for attending Orientation.

Tick Tock

Orientation, though virtual, happens live, in real time and is progressive, meaning you'll get each link from your OL or TOLM as the day progresses. Make sure to be on time to each session so that you get credit for attending Orientation!

You will need to keep up with the schedule by attending all parts of the day. On the afternoon or evening before your session, your OL or TOLM will send you the link to join via email.

In the Chat

Use appropriate messaging etiquette. You will be with your future classmates, faculty, and staff. Make a good first impression!

Get Some Space

Find a quiet and private place with limited distractions. Parents, siblings, spouses, friends, or others are not allowed to be with you during Orientation. New students only!

Zoom Zoom

Make sure to download the latest version of Zoom on your device so that you're ready to go.

Words & Actions Matter

Remember, Eagles respect each other. This is your first time interacting in your new community, so make the most of it by creating positive relationships.

Any inappropriate comments or posts may have you removed from Orientation and subject to disciplinary action.
