- a. General Education: Tom Polaski

Approved CSCI 327: Social Implications of Computing as meeting the Oral Communication requirement.

Approved the goals for the Natural Science component of the General Education Program. (see attached)

Clarified the role of writing in the Natural Science component at the request of the natural science faculty:

Each didactic course listed in the Natural Science list must provide the writing component within that course, unless the didactic course must be taken with a mutually co-requisite laboratory course. In that case, the writing component may be located within the laboratory course.

Natural Science Didactic Courses:

ANTH 202, 220, BIOL 150, 203, 206H, 304, 307, CHEM 101, 105, GEOG 500, GEOL 110, 201, 210, 220, 250, 330, GRNT 301, NUTR 201, 221, PHYS 101, 105, 211, 212, 250, 253, SCIE 222, 223, 301.

Natural Science Didactic Courses with a mutually co-requisite laboratory course (in parentheses):
