Prior Learning Assessment

Winthrop University currently has a process for reviewing learning done outside of an institution of higher education. The Prior Learning Assessment Portfolio process enables a student to document and describe knowledge gained through work experience, professional training, and other non-traditional providers. This process involves the creation of a portfolio of this learning and a review by the institution. Current policy limits this portfolio review to 15 hours and generally to the Bachelor of Professional Studies program.

In recent semesters, students in other programs have expressed interest in receiving credit. In addition, the BPS program is seeking to have the limit increased to 30 credits.

Therefore, the School of Graduate, Continuing, and Online Education and the CBE Policy working group are requesting an increase in the maximum number of credits awarded for Prior Learning Assessment by portfolio to 30 credit hours and to extend the portfolio process to all undergraduate majors.
