Ida Jane Dacus Library

The faculty and collections of Dacus Library are an integral part of the University's instructional program. While all freshmen receive basic instruction in library use, specialized instruction in advanced topics is also available. The Dacus Online Catalog system provides easy access to the library's resources. PASCAL (Partnerships among South Carolina Academic Libraries), a state-supported consortium, not only provides access to millions of other resources, but it also provides access to the state's 12 million books held at other South Carolina academic libraries. Through PASCAL Delivers, students may request books from other institutions and have them within 36 hours. PASCAL is funded through the South Carolina state legislature.

The Library's collections have been selected to support the curriculum of the University and are housed in open stacks. Study and lounge seating is interspersed throughout the building. Public workstations for access to the library's electronic resources and to the Internet are available. The library also offers through its catalog access to more than 15,000 electronic books and over 35,000 full-text journals. Special quarters are provided for archives, microfilm, special collections, United States government publications and library instruction. Closed carrels for faculty and graduate student research, as well as facilities for photo duplication and listening, are included. Dacus also circulates 20 laptops to students for use via the library's building-wide wireless access.

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES AND FACILITIES

The Library's holdings total over 600,000 volumes and volume-equivalents. Included in this figure are books and bound periodicals, microfiche, microcards, and microfilm. In addition, the Library owns over 175,000 U.S. government publications and 2,160 pieces of audio-visual materials, including over 2,000 instructional videotapes. Dacus Library participates in the national interlibrary loan system, retrieving materials from non-South Carolina libraries by e-mail, fax, and traditional mailings.

Instructional Support Labs

Three facilities supplement students' academic programs. The Writing Center assists students who want to improve their writing skills. The Mathematics Tutorial Center offers individual and small group tutoring, and the Language Lab offers computer-assisted instruction in several languages.

International Center and International Student Life

Winthrop's International Center assists students in making arrangements for study abroad. Winthrop maintains associations with institutions in China, Austria, Germany, Egypt, England, Spain, France, and Australia. Opportunities for summer study abroad are provided through the Center's study abroad programs and through special summer offerings at other foreign institutions.

Characteristic of an institution that encourages diversity, Winthrop University offers support for the unique needs of students from other countries. The International Student Advisor's Office helps integrate international students into American society, provides assistance with problems encountered on campus and in the community, and advises students on immigration procedures and other matters.

An international student adviser is available to discuss special concerns or issues with students, while the Winthrop International Club promotes cultural exchange and social activities among the general student population, including an annual International Week in the fall semester. Other events focusing on the diversity of student life are sponsored by interested campus and community groups.

Model United Nations

The Model United Nations is an annual event that brings Winthrop students together with about 70 high school student delegations from across the southeast for a three-day conference in April. The high school delegations assume the role of member nations, with the Winthrop students serving as advisers or on the Secretariat. As students debate world issues and resolutions, the experience provides a greater awareness of international issues within the framework of international policies. In addition, Winthrop students receive academic credit for preparation and participation in the conference.

Multicultural Student Life

Recognizing that a diverse student body enhances campus life for the entire community, Winthrop is strongly committed to attracting and creating a diverse student population. As a result, the Office of Multicultural Student Life services students, faculty and the entire Winthrop community by promoting an all-inclusive environment that seeks understanding and values diversity. We partner with all areas of the university to support the social and academic success for minority students as well as cultural programming and diversity training for all.

Many of Winthrop's clubs and organizations are of particular interest and are designed to meet the cultural and social needs of minority students.

In support of Winthrop's commitment to enable students to live, learn and lead for a lifetime, the Office of Multicultural Student Life provides opportunities to compliment the classroom experience by offering special programs and assisting other offices in recognizing, appreciating and celebrating campus diversity.

National Student Exchange

Winthrop students can experience the excitement of studying at another college or university for up to one year while paying Winthrop's tuition. Exchanges with more than 170 colleges and universities throughout the United States are encouraged during a student's sophomore or junior year. Information on the National Student Exchange is available from the NSE Coordinator located in 206 Tillman Hall, 803-323-2133.

Orientation

Orientation sessions are offered each summer to introduce new students to the educational and co-curricular opportunities available at Winthrop University. Four sessions are offered in the summer for freshmen who are required to attend one session. During this time, students meet with faculty advisers to select courses and register for fall classes and attend interest sessions dealing with all aspects of college life. Select upperclassmen serve as Orientation Leaders, answer questions, and assist students throughout the program in a variety of ways. Orientation also provides new students with an opportunity to get to know other students and make new friends before classes begin.

An orientation program for family members of freshmen is also offered during the first day of Student Orientation. Families meet with faculty, staff, students, and administrators to discuss academic programs, participate in information sessions, and learn about campus facilities and services.

An orientation program specifically geared toward transfer students is offered in May and July. Transfer students who are unable to attend orientation in May or July can attend an advising session with their academic adviser later during the summer, or they may attend the late transfer registration program.

Welcome Week

As an extension of the orientation program, Welcome Week provides opportunities for new students to become acquainted with and involved in events on the Winthrop campus before the start of classes in August. Welcome Week is full of informative, exciting and interactive activities, some of which are designed to help identify resources that are available. Others will help students make informed choices related to personal, academic, and social life. During Welcome Week, students are introduced to members of campus organizations, and activities are designed to integrate new students into the University community. Evening entertainment is coordinated by Winthrop's nationally acclaimed Dinkins Student Union and brings a wide variety of talented performers to campus.

Publications

Students have the opportunity to gain valuable practical experience through service on one of several publications staffs: The Johnsonian, the student newspaper; The Anthology, a literary magazine; and The Roddey-McMillan Record, a multi-cultural interest newspaper.

Residence Life

Winthrop offers full-time students many types of living arrangements to meet individual needs and preferences. Seven campus residence halls and one apartment building offer comfortable, air-conditioned facilities with internet access. Options range from traditional halls with community baths to suites and modern apartments. Students must be enrolled for 12 semester hours to be eligible for campus housing. Students who live in the residence halls are required to have a meal plan. Winthrop's residence hall experience is dedicated to the development of each resident student and is an essential part of the university's total educational experience. Therefore, beginning Fall 2007, all first-year and second-year Winthrop students must live on campus unless they live within a 50-mile radius with a parent or guardian, are 21 years of age, are married, or are a single parent.

All residence halls are within easy walking distance of classes, Dacus Library, Thomson Cafeteria, and Dinkins Student Center. Free laundry facilities, study rooms, kitchens and eating areas are available in most residences. Linen service is not provided by the University. Rooms are furnished for double occupancy. However, if space is available, students may contract for private rooms at an additional cost. The Courtyard and Roddey Apartments are open year round. Roddey apartment assignments are made with priority given to married, single parent families, international, and graduate students.

Apart from providing physical facilities, the residence halls also foster academic success, interaction and involvement among residents. Students are encouraged to participate in hall councils and in the Resident Students Association, an organization which promotes a sense of community among the residence halls. Residence organizations include:

Resident Students' Association
Roddey Apartment Association
Lee Wicker Hall Council
Margaret Nance Hall Council
Phelps Hall Council

Richardson Leadership Involvement Team
Thomson House Council
The Courtyard Hall Council
Wofford Hall Council

All students assigned to campus housing must sign a contract relating to the terms and conditions of occupancy. It is important that a student read the contract before signing and be thoroughly familiar with its terms. Violation of terms of the Housing Contract can result in immediate removal from living in the halls and subject the violator to further proceedings in accord with the Student Conduct Code.

Service Learning

Service Learning is located in the Center for Career Development and Service Learning. This program coordinates the Close Scholars and assists professors with service learning curriculum, both in and out of the classroom. In addition, the Program Director assists students with co-op and/or internships with nonprofit agencies, in conjunction with Career Development. Service learning is located on the first floor of the Crawford Building.

Writing Center

The Writing Center, located in 242 Bancroft Hall, provides a free writing consulting service to all members of the University community: students, staff, administrators, and faculty. The Writing Center's purpose is to help writers at all levels learn more about their writing through tutoring sessions. Tutors help writers learn to analyze assignments, address audiences appropriately, improve their composing processes, strengthen the focus and organization of their writing, and improve their control of the language. While the Writing Center cannot provide a proofreading/editing service or a guarantee of better grades, its tutors will help improve writing skills. The primary purpose is to improve writing in the long term.

Although operating hours may vary from semester to semester, the Writing Center is open at least five days a week, with some evening and weekend hours. Scheduling an appointment assures that a tutor will be available. To make an appointment, call 803-323-2138.
