STAFF CONFERENCE WILL NOT MEET AGAIN UNTIL JAN. 15.
We understand the necessity of holding back on the budget in the first semester of the school year. But with so much scheduled programming and planning beginning for the spring, we really need to know in advance so we can plan and spend accordingly. Additionally, students have already been hired for certain jobs, and we don’t know if we can promise those jobs now. Is there a date on which we’ll have the funding? Do we anticipate cuts? When the next fiscal year approaches, will this be the process, or will budgets be known earlier?
• FY2019 was a unique year given the transition to a new CFO and the trending towards an enrollment reduction over the summer. Therefore, the loading of partial budgets was a strategic move and will not be a practice you can expect in future years. Instead, there will be a formal budget process to ensure the proper budgets are set and loaded prior to the fiscal year.

• Finance is currently working with the units across campus and all FY2019 budgets will be loaded before Winter Break. (continued on next slide)
• We do anticipate budget reductions based on the decline in enrollment, but leadership is working to minimize the impact on the various units around campus to avoid an across the board but, but some areas will receive reduced budgets based on discussions between finance and their leadership.

• The FY2020 budget process will begin in January 2019 and all units will be provided an opportunity to request and justify their FY2020 Budget. Senior Leadership will ultimately decide on the final approved budgets that will be presented to the Board of Trustees for final approval in June 2019.
With the significant decrease in enrollment this year, why does Winthrop not offer a discounted tuition to employees’ and retired employees’ children to attend Winthrop? This would help maybe with attrition here at Winthrop. Morale is at a very low point no matter what is said at the top of administration.
President Mahony explained it’s a state law that we cannot provide free tuition and/or discounted tuition. The budget is being reviewed to see if we can provide scholarship dollars to students of F/S members. He pointed out that the administration has never said the morale was high, and that it needed to be improved. The survey done previously stated that employee satisfaction is good and higher than it was before, but the university is still not where it wants to be.
What is the reasoning we have the lowest freshmen enrollment in recent years? What are we currently doing to fix that problem for the upcoming year?
The president stated that Eduardo gave a one-hour presentation to the BOT regarding this issue. We have hired consultants to review our financial aid program and we are awaiting their results regarding leveraging the dollars. We are currently considering adding new programs. Freshman enrollment has declined across the U.S., so this is not unique to Winthrop. Athletics is looking into adding eSports, which would add more students to campus. New recruiting strategies are being discussed and we should expect an increase in enrollment. We have had a 30% increase in applications to Winthrop. Staff Feedback Committee will be looking into this subject as well.
With Winthrop introducing new concentrations, minors, and majors, are there any plans to add a mechanical engineering or any kind of engineering degree?
This is not likely due to massive upfront costs. We would need a facility and faculty to teach such a program. We are currently looking into a RN to BSN program that would be online.
President Mahony mentioned the Winthrop Plan action groups at the State of the University address. Would it be possible to put on the Winthrop Plan website a list of meeting dates and notes from each group’s meeting? We haven’t heard much about the conclusions or work that these groups have done.
President Mahony felt this was a good suggestion and it is being looked into adding this information to the website.
A department ordered new name tags with the new logo from Ryder. They received an email that they will be charged a “royalty fee” of 12% since the university is now charging Ryder to use the logo. The questions are: Where is this 12% going (to the university or to the company who did our licensing)? What other items with the new logo will have royalty charges?
Nicole answered this, as it was mentioned last meeting. Ryder should not be charging the royalty fee to the university. This charge is for outside persons purchasing items with our logo. If you are charged or have been charged, please contact Katie Price at pricek@winthrop.edu. The 12% fee comes back to the university.
